EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Anganwadi and ASHA workers have crucial roles in early education and healthcare which are among the most important areas of life, but they are also among the most neglected sections of community workers. Both are particularly important in rural areas. But, as a report showed, as many as 1.35 lakh Anganwadi workers and over 40,000 ASHA workers in Karnataka have not received their honorarium for several months. The ASHA workers have not got their performance-based incentive either. The duration of payment default varies from district to district. This is not the first time there were payment failures. Last year also, payments were delayed twice by at least two to four months.

The reasons cited for the delay have varied every time, and they were all unconvincing. Health and Family Welfare Commissioner D. Randeep has said that the model code of conduct and the shifting of the payment server had caused the delay. Was anybody else's, including the official's, salary delayed because of this? The Union Government is also being blamed, as it is said to be streamlining the system for direct transfer of payments. These are workers who get a pittance for a salary and give to society much more than what they get. Many Anganwadi workers pay for the eggs that they give to the children under their care, and some others even pay the rent for the Anganwadi buildings where they work.

For many of these workers, the meagre monthly income, which is barely around Rs. 10,000, is the income for survival of their families. The value of an egg that an Anganwadi worker buys for children is much more than its price. The value of an ASHA worker's work was seen during the COVID pandemic. The Government and society owe them much, and they should not be ill-treated and denied even their dues. During the election campaign, Priyanka Gandhi promised to Anganwadi and ASHA workers specific increases in honorarium and retirement compensation if the Congress came to power. Now's the time to clear the dues and make good the promises. — In Deccan Herald

Crocodile found to have made herself pregnant

Costa Rica: A crocodile in Costa Rica has made herself pregnant, the first recorded instance of a "virgin birth" in the reptile species.

The crocodile was kept in captivity in a zoo and had no contact with males - but a fully-formed foetus was discovered inside one of her eggs. The foetus was 99.9% genetically identical to the mother, confirming it had no father.

Virgin births, or parthenogenesis, have been documented in birds, lizards, snakes and fish, but never before in crocodiles.

Researchers from Virginia Tech who specialise in parthenogenesis said the discovery suggests virgin births could be happening in crocodiles without anyone realising.

People used to face masks take smiling lessons

Tokyo: People in Japan who became so used to wearing face masks during the pandemic are signing up for lessons to teach them how to smile again.

Many people wouldn't be seen in public without a mask, with the practice becoming near-universal after the virus emerged more than three years ago.

With the government having finally lifted its recommendation to wear masks in March, Himawari Yoshida was among those who realised they had rather forgotten how to go about life without them.

"I hadn't used my facial muscles much during COVID," said the 20-year-old. She has now hired the services of a "smile instructor", saying it's "good exercise."

Yoshida and her classmates, mostly young people, are being taught by Keiko Kawano, who in one exercise has them hold up mirrors to their faces, stretching the sides of their mouths with their fingers.

Mysuru-Kushalnagar four-lane Highway works to begin soon

Mysuru, June 10 (SBD&DM)- Mysuru-Kodagu MP Pratap Simha held a meeting with concerned officials on expediting the four-lane Mysuru-Kushalnagar Highway at Bengaluru on Thursday.

The MP held the meeting at the NHAI (National Highways Authority of India) Regional office in the State Capital, which was attended by Chief Engineer Vivek Jaiswal and officials from the executing company (Dileep Buildcon).

Prime Minister Narendra Modi had laid the foundation stone for the 93-km Mysuru-Kushalnagar Highway project in March this year. The project is estimated to cost Rs. 4,130 crore.

The works of the project will be taken up in two packages

— One from Paschimavahini near Srirangapatna to Periyapatna and the other from Periyapatna to Guddehosur. The Highway will link the Mysuru-Bengaluru Expressway at Paschimavahini.

During the meeting, Pratap Simha is said to have told officials of Dileep Buildcon to construct storm water drainage to ensure that the road does not get flooded during rains. Simha had cited the Induvalu underpass issue of Mysuru-Bengaluru Expressway as rain water used to create a lot of problems for the villagers.

VOICE OF THE READER

Dumping of waste under warning board !

Sir,

On earlier occasions many readers including me had brought the issue of dumping of waste along service roads of the Ring Road with no avail.

This morning on my walk on Ring Road leading towards R.T. Nagar, I found a lot of garbage strewn all over on the service road. The place was pathetic but what caught my attention was the notice board put up by MCC warning of punishment to those who dump garbage there. Well the board hasn't deterred people from dumping garbage.

Hope the authorities will clean up the place and put up Godly posters which might make people afraid of God's wrath and avoid throwing garbage.

EXPRESSWAY DEATHS

RTO problem, not the ROAD

Last year, Zoomcar, India's biggest self-drive rental car company, surveyed 22 cities using its proprietary drive scoring system and declared Mysuru had the worst drivers in the country!

Based on yesterday's SOM report, the survey's assessment seems right. The report stated that in just five months of the Mysuru-Bengaluru Expressway opening, there have been 570 accidents where 55 people have died, 52 were seriously injured, 187 suffered fractures and 279 sustained minor injuries! It's not the faulty road; it's an issue of faulty drivers.

The problem of bad drivers begins at the RTO level. In 2017, 'Save a Life Foundation,' a well-respected NGO committed to improving road safety, surveyed ten major cities in India. They wanted to know how many people got their driver's licence (DL) without a driving test.

What is the result of the survey? 59 percent. Yes, almost 60 percent of the drivers in our country's major cities have got a driver's licence without a proper driving test! Is it any surprise, then, that most of us are unsafe drivers?

There is a direct correlation between corruption at RTOs in issuing driver's licences and bad drivers leading to death on Indian roads. It has also become a sociological problem as it introduces young minds to bribing their way to success. When a 16-year-old gets his learner's licence (LLR), in most cases, he also earns a learner's licence on how to bribe.

This driver's licence corruption, which has led to an increased number of bad drivers and, in turn, deaths on Indian roads, prompted Harvard Business School to do a study titled 'Obtaining a Driver's Licence in India: An experimental approach to studying corruption.' One of the conclusions was that 62 percent of Indian drivers were unqualified to drive when they obtained a licence!

Mysuru is growing, and it's time to prepare, not just the roads but also its drivers. First, the RTO needs to conduct two tests — one for city driving and one for highway driving. Considering there have been so many deaths on the Expressway to Bengaluru, it is crucial.

Most drivers in India are unaware of many aspects of driving, such as 'blind spots' and lane discipline. Mysuru drivers must learn lane discipline — Stick to your side and not slither on the road like a snake from one side of the road to another. When you have no lane discipline, no matter how big a road you are given, it will never be enough.

That said, there are a few issues with the Mysuru-Bengaluru Expressway, such as the Government's inability to maintain impenetrable side walls, have continuous service lanes to park vehicles that have broken, and the failure to ban two-wheelers and autorickshaws which hinder lane discipline.

There is also the issue of patrolling and keeping the Expressway clear at all times. Already we see coconut sellers on the Expressway, people stopping on the outer lane to take pictures, and young boys doing motorcycle stunts. There is no Police patrolling to stop these dangerous activities.

I was recently in Sri Lanka. They, too, have an Expressway connecting Colombo and a city called Galle. On this Expressway, no autorickshaws and motorcycles are allowed. All cars and buses must maintain a speed limit of 100 km per hour, plus or minus 15 km. Drivers are fined if they go above and also below this speed range.

They also have a separate department in the Police force to handle the Expressway issues. This includes an Accident Response Team. We are yet to put such systems in place. But that doesn't mean the road is faulty; our drivers are not well-trained to drive on an Expressway, and that's the issue.

The Mysuru-Bengaluru Expressway was designed for an average speed of about 100 kilometres per hour, and the width of each lane was designed for that speed, but none of the cars follow that. Worse, we lack lane discipline, a big problem on an Expressway where vehicles move at high speeds.

As per the Report on Road Accidents in India 2019, over 24,431 road accidents occurred due to lack of lane discipline, and over 9,201 deaths happened due to overtaking and when changing lanes. We Mysureans should be aware of this as we will drive a lot on the new Expressway and at high speeds where lane discipline becomes crucial.

We have a culture that has complete disregard for our safety and others, too — from getting up before a flight comes to a complete halt to hopping onto a moving train; from driving up a one-way street to driving between lanes on the Expressway; from making kids pop their heads out of the sunroof to not wearing seatbelts, we never pay attention to safety.

Senior Police Officer and now CBI Director Praveen Sood said, "What is in the public interest may not always be what the public is interested in." He is right. Here is an example. Seat belts are compulsory, and new cars keep 'beeping' if you are not wearing your seat belt to remind you to wear it for your own safety.

But the unwillingness of drivers and co-passengers to wear seat belts has given rise to a new business opportunity — the buckle market. Shops are now selling just the buckle, which is 'clicked' in to shut the beep up!

It is said to drive on Indian roads, you need 'Good Horn, Good Brakes and Good Luck.' This is true, but for now, as accidents and deaths rise on the Mysuru-Bengaluru Expressway, the need of the hour is a better driver's test and a non-corrupt licence-issuing system, else the Expressway will be an Expressway to go straight to heaven, hell or worse... a greedy hospital.

Attendees at the rally were provided with vegetarian dishes, such as Holige Oota, Payasa and Sambar, at the spacious ground in Biligere.

Earlier, Siddharamaiah received a warm welcome at Suttur Helipad with the performances of various folk and cultural troupes, along with the bursting of crackers.

The Chief Minister was received by District In-charge Minister Dr. H.C. Mahadevappa, Chamarajanagar District In-charge Minister K. Venkatesh, Mysuru Deputy Commissioner Dr. K.V. Rajendra, IGP (Southern Range) Pravin Madhukar Pawar, City Police Commissioner Ramesh Banoth, SP Seema Latkar, ZP CEO K.M. Gayathri and other top district officials.

Parking on six roads will henceforth cost money

D. Devaraj Urs Road, Ashoka Road, Sayyaji Rao Road, Vinoba Road, Dhanvantri Road, Sri Harsha Road, Town Hall

Mayor Shivakumar flanked by MCC Commissioner G. Lakshmikantha Reddy and Deputy Mayor Dr. G. Roopa at the meeting yesterday.

Mysuru, June 10 (SBD&BCT)- After repeated failed attempts to introduce a pay-and-park system on the city roads in the past, the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) has again made an attempt to enforce the system on three major roads and Town Hall premises in the city's Central Business District (CBD) on a trial basis.

A resolution was passed at the Council meeting last evening to this effect and the system will come into force on D. Devaraj Urs Road, Ashoka Road, Sayyaji Road, and the Town Hall premises. The move is expected to at least reduce the worsening parking issues arising from the exponential increase in vehicles.

The Council also subsequently decided to include Vinoba Road, Dhanvantri Road and Sri Harsha Road in the pay-and-park system. The locations were identified as facing significant parking issues, as they are frequented by tourists for shopping purposes.

Another important decision of the Council is to revise rents to the 1,941 properties owned by the MCC that have been occupied by tenants. The Council met under the chairmanship of Mayor Shivakumar in the presence of Deputy Mayor Dr. G. Roopa and MCC Commissioner G. Lakshmikantha Reddy.

As per the Council decision, for two-wheelers, the initial parking fee for two hours has been set at Rs. 10, and subsequently charged at Rs. 10 per hour. Similarly, for light motor vehicles like cars, the initial two-hour fee has been fixed at Rs. 30, with an additional Rs. 10 for each subsequent hour. (see table)

The Council also resolved to invite tenders and select an agency or agencies to operate the pay-and-park system. All these years, the D. Devaraj Urs Road has posed a challenge for shoppers and tourists who struggle to find parking spaces due to constant occupation by vehicles presumably owned by shopkeepers. It had also posed a significant challenge for the Mysuru City Police

Agency to be finalised

The Mayor said, "The selected roads for implementing the pay-and-park system are bustling commercial areas with high pedestrian and vehicular traffic. There were suggestions from stakeholders to introduce this system to ensure adequate parking space for everyone. The MCC has taken these suggestions and opinions into account."

Once the system is implemented, it is expected to resolve parking space inconsistencies, as anyone willing to pay the fee will be able to park their vehicles. Commissioner Lakshmikantha Reddy stated that the system will be formally introduced once the agency is finalised.

It may be mentioned here that in the past, though the MCC Council approved the pay-and-park proposal, the scheme failed to take off due to lack of consensus and resistance from a section of the business community.

Additionally, the City Traffic Police attempted to push the proposal forward two years ago by suggesting alternative parking locations for the Devaraj Urs Road businessmen at nearby locations in Devaraja Mohalla so that the Urs Road can be freed for shoppers' parking. But the move was dropped as it did not receive sufficient support.

Pay-and-Park in Mysuru city

Road	Two-wheelers capacity	Four-wheelers capacity
D. Devaraj Urs Road	900	220
Ashoka Road	200	60
Town Hall premises	200	270
Sayyaji Rao Road	500	130
Vinoba Road	800	60
Sri Harsha Road	30	80
Dhanvantri Road	400	30

- Two-wheelers: Initial parking fee for two hours: Rs. 10
- Subsequent hours: Rs. 10 per hour
- Light motor vehicles: Initial two-hour fee: Rs. 30
- Additional each subsequent hour: Rs. 10

Alternative lands to 46 farmers

The Council decided to provide alternative lands to 46 farmers of 'Yelethota' whose lands were acquired by the then City Improvement Trust Board (CITB) in 1949 for the development of the city.

The MCC has identified land in Survey Nos. 119, 179 and 180 near Sewage Farm in Vidyaranyapuram and will provide 0.05 gunta land each to 46 betel leaves farmers. The Government Order (Urban Development Department 192ACM2016) was issued on 16.1.2018 but the land allocation was delayed so far.

The CITB in 1949 had acquired lands from betel leaf farmers at Malalawadi, Kasaba Hobli in Mysuru taluk and had given compensation only to land owners. As those who were growing betel leaf by taking the land on contract were in dire straits, the then Government had ordered to provide 5 guntas land.

Tenants still pay Rs. 30 to Rs. 40 a month as rent for MCC properties

Mysuru, June 10 (SBD&BCT)- Despite manifold increase in the rents of private buildings, land value and a steep rise in the land prices, especially in the city areas, hundreds of tenants who have taken several properties owned by the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) are still paying a paltry rent of Rs. 30 to Rs. 40 a month.

The MCC owns 1,941 properties at 15 places and at the yesterday's Council meeting, a decision was taken to revise the rents per square foot, based on the guidance value prescribed by the jurisdictional Sub-Registrar.

The rents were last revised 18 years back and if the revised rents come into effect, the MCC that is at present getting a revenue of Rs. 1.60 crore can easily gain a revenue of Rs. 5 crore. Shockingly, several properties are paying the rent that existed in 1941.

The Council took objection to the fact that despite the lack of resources for welfare programmes, the MCC has not yet raised the rents and the tenants continue to enjoy the facilities though the rental value has multiplied by many times over the years.

The properties that have been rented out include Devaraja Market, Visvesvaraya Building, Lansdowne Building, Kalidasa Road, Old Bus Stand, Jayalakshmipuram, Metagalli, Bidaram Krishnappa Road, Kumbarakoppal, Mandi Market, Vani Vilas Market, scrap yards, petrol pumps, tennis courts, milk and fish outlets.

An officer participating in the discussion told the Council that several tenants have approached the Courts against eviction orders issued by the MCC. Reacting to this, Commissioner G. Lakshmikantha Reddy informed the Council that though there is opposition to evict tenants, there has been no resistance to increase the rents.

The Council resolved to revise the rents per square foot based on the guidance value with retrospective effect from January 2023.

Footpath markets: Indifference of MCC Officers irks Corporators

Mysuru, June 10 (SBD&BS)- Corporators Prema Shankaregowda and K.V. Sridhar expressed their frustration with MCC officials for allegedly disregarding the issue of footpath encroachments and the conversion of roads into makeshift markets.

During the MCC Council meeting held last evening, Sridhar highlighted the encroachment of footpaths on prominent roads, which forces pedestrians to dangerously walk on the roads.

Prema Shankaregowda K.V. Sridhar

He also pointed out that roads, constructed with crores of rupees, have been transformed into marketplaces, defeating the very purpose of road construction. For instance, a section of the road stretching from Trinetra Circle to Vijayanagar Water Tank junction, leading to the Ring Road via Abhishek Circle, has become a vending zone, he said. Despite bringing this issue to the attention of the officers, no action has been taken thus far, he added.

Sridhar further raised concerns about the responsibility in the event of any harm befalling pedestrians who are forced into precarious situations due to footpath vendors encroaching upon the roads. He said that the gravity of the situation can be fully understood by observing the conditions in various parts of the city.

He requested that the Mayor and Commissioner personally visit his Ward at 7 pm on any given day to understand the menace and its gravity. He also warned that he would stage a protest by selling vegetables on a pushcart in front of the MCC, as he had done previously.

Corporator Prema Shankaregowda shared that she had sent a video depicting vendors conducting business on footpaths and roads, questioning why no action had been initiated.

In response to their concerns, Mayor Shivakumar and Commissioner Lakshmikantha Reddy instructed the Health Officer, Development Officer and Executive Engineer to visit the location and provide a report detailing the actions taken by Monday and submit an action taken report.

2-day MyGreen Expo begins

K. Subramani, Chairman, Green Building and Eco Friendly Materials and Method Committee, BAI, lighting the lamp to inaugurate the MyGreen Expo at Nanjaraj Bahadur Choultry on Vinoba Road in city this morning as others look on.

Mysuru, June 10 (PM&BS)- The two-day MyGreen exhibition of environment-friendly construction materials, organised by Builders Association of India (BAI), Mysore Centre and Mysore Builders Charitable Trust (MBCT) at Nanjaraj Bahadur Choultry on Vinoba Road in city, began this morning. The exhibition will be open from 10 am to 8.30 pm today and tomorrow and the entry is free for all.

Addressing the gathering after inaugurating the expo, K. Subramani, Chairman, Green Building and Eco Friendly Materials and Method Committee, BAI, said: "MyGreen exhibition is organised as a part of World Environment Month celebrations, to increase the awareness level among the public. Most of the historical buildings in the country are engineering feat that were achieved several hundreds of years ago, which also give a message on how man and nature were intricately connected. The forts, palaces and houses were all built amid nature, with limited waste of resources. However, as the skyscrapers started dominating the scenario to accommodate growing population, they were considered detrimental to the climate."

It is estimated that, 40 percent of the energy related global emissions are attributed to buildings and 60 percent of the waste from buildings or allied activities, said Subramani.

Explaining the concept of Green Building, Subramani said: "A Green Building is built in an ecological way utilising all the natural resources, in compliance with the environment, during every stage of construction of the building."

BAI Karnataka Chairman Srinivas Reddy said: "Using the benefits of Science, we have to tackle emerging problems and a lot is already happening in this regard. However, the need of the hour is a surge of public and political pressure to expedite action from the Government, companies and other stake holders to solve the crisis."

BAI Mysrore Centre Chairman V. Nagaraj Bairy said: "As part of World Environment Month celebrations, 17 various activities are being organised throughout the month. The response towards MyGreen remains intact, as similar number of 20 stalls were also opened at the same venue last year too. MyBuild, another annual exhibition organised by BAI, has grown into a bigger event with 200 stalls when compared to the early years of its inception."

A.S. Yoganarasimha, Chairman of World Environment Month Celebration Committee (WEMC) of BAI, V. Gurudatt, Honorary Secretary, WEMC, K.S. Balaji and Srinath, Honorary Secretaries of BAI, Mysore Centre and others were present.
